

Your writing, drawing,
talking, and sharing just
makes my brain happy.

You're the biggest reason I came to school today!
When I see you struggle and keep going, it reminds me I can do the same.

There's just something special about you, it's like I'm meeting someone very important before everyone else knows it!

You are especially smart! I'm so proud of you I have goosebumps!

Thank you for making my day.

I miss you and your classmates
over the weekend.

You're a great problem solver, and that will take you far in life!

I love watching you play / listening to you read / talking to you about what you learned.

I'm so glad you're here! I needed something to make this day better.

When you graduate, will you come back and visit sometimes? I hate to think of this school without you.
